American War Deaths To Take Rise

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. (AP)—The official toll of American deaths in the Korean war will rise to more than 30,000 in the months ahead as the Defense Department reports "dead" across the names of thousands now listed as missing in action.

With the prisoner exchange completed, the services now will try to determine the fate of some 7,000 Americans still missing. In many cases their fate will never be determined definitely. But military officials sadly admit that for most of the missing the only conclusion can be that they are dead.

Before declaring a missing man to be dead, the services must make a detailed investigation, piecing together all available scraps of information about what happened to him. It will be a time-consuming job. The Army estimates it will be two years before it has officially determined the fate of all its missing in action. By the time the job is completed the Korean death toll, which now stands at 25,004, is expected to top 30,000.

Unlike World War II, the services will not be able to obtain the conclusive proof of uncovering the man's body buried in enemy territory. Instead, they must rely on reports of fellow soldiers and returning prisoners, with daily partial credence given to Communist lists of Americans who died behind their lines.

The services have postponed starting their job until now, hoping to obtain more information from repatriated prisoners.

Until the missing soldier is declared dead, his next of kin continues to receive monthly pay allowances. With the declaration of death, the next of kin receives a "death gratuity" of $10,000 to six months pay plus $10,000 in life insurance.

Cussin' Harry Cusses Again

CHICAGO, Sept. 14. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman started "telling them to go to hell" when asked to comment on a Republican complaint that the Democratic Digest should not be circulated overseas.

Clayton Fritchey, editor of the Digest, said wryly "Well, they can always burn them," an apparent reference to charges that the GOP administration ordered books burned in overseas libraries.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall filed the Democrats gathered here for a two-day rally by accusing the Democrats of "promoting distrust of the U.S. abroad by distributing the Digest in foreign countries."

In an "open letter" to defeated 1952 presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, Hall asked the former Illinois governor if he thinks Democrats "are doing the cause of America by peddling untruthful attacks on the President through European and Canadian distributors of the magazine."

Mr. Truman was asked if he could be quoted on his "go to hell" comment and replied, "Yes, sir."

In Mr. Truman's company were Stevenson and national chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, who remarked "They really must be hurting" to want the magazine withdrawn from overseas circulation.

Stevenson said he "hadn't heard the Democratic Digest had such influence."

Hall said in his letter that the magazine has been "mainly devoted to attacks on President Eisenhower, the 33rd Congress and all their works and policies."

Smooth Talking Americans Persuaded Others To Go Home

By WILLIAM MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

PANMUNJON, Korea, Sept. 14. (AP)—Red correspondent Wilfred Burchett said today smooth-talking American prisoners returning to the way to repatriation and the way to repatriation and the way to repatriation.

The Australian-born correspondent for the Paris newspaper L'Humanite said a number of Americans had got as far as Kaesong on the way to repatriation and then decided against being returned to the United States.

Burchett said glib-tongued "reactionaries," prisoners who failed to swallow the Communist line, quickly went to work on the reluctant captives and sold them on the idea that democracy was better than Communism.

But Burchett said some of the Americans resisted the efforts and now are in Kaesong awaiting repatriation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS MEETING PLACE CHANGED

The Dorcas Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church will hold their meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Wall, 500 Elm Street.

The meeting was originally planned to be held at the home of Mrs. Oliver Cherry on South Sixth Street, but has been changed due to the illness of Mrs. Cherry's grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Houston, who suffered a stroke Sunday.

Meilinger OK But Bryant Has Worries

LEXINGTON, Sept. 14. (AP)—One major cause for concern in the University of Kentucky football camp dissolved today, but coach Paul Bryant made it plain he had plenty of other worries.

Big Steve Meilinger, around whom this year's Wildcat team is built, missed a full-scale scrimmage Saturday afternoon because of an ankle infection. He was out of the University infirmary this morning, however, and apparently ready to go against Texas A. & M. in the opener here next Saturday night.

Bryant wasn't too well satisfied with the results of the Saturday scrimmage, or at least he gave that general impression after it was over. He remarked, among other things, that if the varsity wasn't hitting a little harder Saturday night "Texas A. & M. will disgrace us."

Those who watched the varsity outscore the blue-shirts. Three touchdowns to one without using Meilinger thought Bryant was a little too pessimistic.

After the scrimmage, athletic director B. A. Shively announced that Kentucky will open its 1954 season by playing Maryland here on Sept. 18, probably in the afternoon.

The Terrapins, a top-ranking national power for several seasons, loom as the toughest opening game. The agreement also calls for Kentucky to play at Maryland in 1955.

Ancient Gas Buggies To Go On Long Tour

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14. (AP)—Proud owners of 333 ancient gas buggies will stage their eighth annual Glidden antique auto tours, said the cars will set out for the week long 300 mile tour from here to Columbus, Ohio, Toledo, Ohio and Detroit Mich.

The cars, ranging from ancient Fords, Cadillacs, Buicks and Packards, will chug alongside such almost-forgotten veterans of the highways as Marmon, Whites, Peerless, Locomobiles, Wintons and Maxwells.

The American Automobile Association, assisting in the revived tours, said this cars will set out for Columbus Tuesday, and leave Wednesday for Toledo and Detroit.

Tenor James Melton, national chairman of his year's tour, said no formation would be kept for the motorcade along the route.

Northern Democrat Backs Georgia Demo In Warning

By JOHN L. CUTTER
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 14. (AP)—A leading Southern Democrat warned the party today that those called "loyalty pledge" is "an insult to the South" which could wreck the party in Dixie.

He received quick support from a prominent Northern Democrat in a bid for party harmony. Georgia's Democratic chairman, Jim Peters, was the first person to bring the subject of the loyalty oath into official discussion at the party's two-day conference which opened here today.

An equally important Northern Democrat, Iowa State Chairman Jake More, arose quickly to express sympathy for Peters' views and said the party should "stop deferring amicably."

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, one of the "Young Turks" who brought up the loyalty pledge at the 1952 convention, declined an invitation to speak at the breakfast but told newsmen he still favored the oath.

Williams said he has advised other backers of the oath not to go anything about it at the current conference because "there's really nothing we can do."

Williams' remarks strengthened the belief that older leaders in the party, such as former President Harry Truman and House Minority leader Sam Rayburn, had prevailed on the "Young Turks" element to avoid the loyalty issue.

The party's public affairs director, Clayton Fritchey, told a meeting of midwest leaders that the Republican administration is beginning to get "the same treatment" from the press that the Democrats got during their 24 years in office.

He said the "misdeeds" of the GOP administration are being "adequately reported" in the press. The loyalty oath issue, which threatened to time bomb the conference, began fizzling Sunday as leaders fought for harmony in order to capture next year's congressional elections.

Miss America Begins Nation Wide Tour

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (AP)—A Pennsylvania sorority girl goes shopping today for the wardrobe she will wear in and out of spotlights across the nation as the new "Miss America."

Evelyn Margaret Ay of Ephrata, Pa., who won the coveted title at Atlantic City, N.J., Saturday night, found that the first thing Miss America needs is clothes. She will be seen in nearly every state in the union and will travel to Europe during her 12-month reign.

Miss Ay, it rhymes with "ay," defeated 52 girls for the crown of Miss America and the $30,000 in prizes that go with it. She said she was surprised she won, because the judges could see plainly that she bulges in some of the wrong places.

When she visits Manhattan's leading dress shops this week for fittings, the tape measures will record a 37 inch bust, 24 inch waist and 36 inch hips. This is far from the usual beauty queen standards, which call for hips and bust of the same size and a waist 10 inches smaller.

But Miss Ay, who is 20, a blonde and stands five feet eight inches tall, said she had an incurable appetite for pork chops and sauerkraut and her figure is the result. She tried dieting once but gave it up.

The new Miss America will cross the country seven or eight times in the coming year and make about 300 personal appearances. Her prizes include a $5,000 scholarship and she will resume her studies at the University of Pennsylvania when she yields her crown a year from now.

After her visit to New York, Miss Ay will go home to Ephrata and a rousing reception from her hometown.

In 1950 she was queen of the Ephrata fair and Tobacco Queen of Lancaster County. Last year, she was named "Miss Pennsylvania Amvet" and "Miss National Amvet." Earlier this year she became "Miss Pennsylvania" and got her chance for the Miss America title.

At a press conference Sunday Miss Ay confided to reporters she was the sweetheart of a Sigma Chi at the university, where she is studying to be a medical technician. She identified the boy of her dreams as Sam Cempier, 22, a Naval cadet.

She also said she does not like the new short skirts because she is too tall to wear them.

When a reporter asked her whether she was a Republican or a Democrat, she said she was still too young to vote and didn't give politics much thought.

Lewis Stone, Film Star Succumbs

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for veteran film star Lewis Stone, who died of heart attack, choking three boys who threw lawn furniture into his swimming pool.

Stone, 73, collapsed and died Saturday night after running into his yard to pursue three teen-agers who had sneaked onto his property.

His wife, Hazel, said the white-haired actor had summoned police when he heard the youths throwing lawn furniture into the pool. She said that only moments before she had warned him of over-exercising. He had suffered a heart condition for six years.

The boys were taken into custody by police but later released to their parents.

Stone's death ended an acting career of more than 50 years. In his later years as a film star, he was best known for his portrayal of Judge Hardy and the "Andy Hardy" film series, co-starring Mickey Rooney.

The stage lured Stone when he graduated from college 35 years ago. He first appeared on Broadway at the age of 20 in the play, "Side-Track."

Stone interrupted his stage career to serve as a lieutenant in the Spanish-American War.

He reached his greatest popularity in movie pictures. His early sound movies included appearing with Greta Garbo and Norma Shearer.

Stone was born in Worcester, Mass., Nov. 15, 1879.

He was married three times. His first wife, Margaret Laneham, died; he was divorced from his second wife, Laura Oakley, and in 1920 he married the present Mrs. Stone.

Besides his widow, Stone is survived by two daughters, Virginia and Barbara.

His latest picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was "All The Brothers Were Valiant."

The private funeral services will be held at his home.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK Sept. 14 (AP)—The metropolitan opera doesn't open until mid-November so this is just to tip off the tonsil tapers regarding if they are planning to revive the tragedy "Carmen" the boxing industry is beating them to the punch.

There will be slight variations of course, in the pugilistic performance.
In the opera version, Carmen is a faithless gal who works in a tobacco factory and gets struck down with a stiletto by a gent named Jose.

Boxing presentation concerns a Carmen who once worked on an union farm but will be struck down with leather mittens by a gent named Gerardo.

The cast in the mitt moo classic
will be composed of Carmen Bas-ilio as Carmen and Gerardo Gonzalez, better known as Kid Gavil-lan, in the role of Jose. Maybe Carmen isn't as pretty as some of the dolls who have played the part in the past, although from the look of some of those divas no reflection, fellows it's six, two and even that he'd rate as worse than third choice.

The presentation will take place at Syracuse on Friday night and the diamond horseshoe, in this case the ring, will be filled with a bunch of the boss from Syracuse ringside. Evening dress is not required as long as you wear a shirt. But essentially the plot is the same.

One of the principal differences is that there should be more action in the box ring. In the opera version, although the music is guaranteed in the current era of fustuffs. There have been pugilistic performances of late which in comparison would make Hamlet look like a jitterbug jam session.

On the other hand, there are substantiated reports Gavil-lan has as much trouble striking his belt line as Mario Lanca, who had to shed 50 pounds to get into the movies. The "Kid" or "Jose" if you prefer, didn't have to melt off quite that much.

But since his last well-known fight, Miss Terry of Jefferson county has been named Kentucky's fourth representative of the year to take part in the International Farm Youth Exchange program.
It is announced by the 4-H club department at the University of Kentucky.

In mid-September, Miss Terry will go to New Zealand for a four-month stay, sailing from San Francisco with young people from other states en route to Australia and the Philippine Islands. The "grassroots ambassadors" will spend three days in Berkeley, where they will be given a briefing and orientation course.

Miss Terry was an active 4-H club member for 11 years, and in 1952 was named the state style revue champion at 4-H Week at Lexington. As such, she was giving a trip to 4-H Club Congress in Chicago last December.

Upon graduation from high school, Miss Terry completed a business course, and since that time has been working as a secretary.

title defense, a Merchant of Venice bloodletting now known as the Chuck Davey massacre, he hasn't weighed in at less than 151 1/2-ting down to the 147-pound welterweight limit, and still retaining the strength to put Carmen on the deck in the accepted opera finale of this tale, may develop a strange ending.

It is to be doubted, however,
that "Jose" will crum up his lines
in that manner.

For the Keed is an old trouper and it is improbable that he will either let the Met outdo him, or permit Carmen to emerge victorious for a change.

As the man said, it just ain't

HAPPY OVER RULING AGAINST USAF

IT'S ALL SMILES for former Airman Robert W. Toth of Pittsburgh sent his mother and stepfather, shown in Washington following decision of Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff that the U. S. Air Force had no right to whisk him off to Korea to face murder charges. Toth was picked up at his steel worker job last May, five months after he was honorably discharged. He was shipped to Korea to face charges that he and two other airmen took part in the slaying of a South Korean civilian last September. Toth's

VIGO WHEAT GROWN
IN ESTILL COUNTY

Bulan Arvin of Crooked Creek and Glynn Witt of Irvine combined 80 acres of Vigo wheat to sell for seed. The yield was around 25 bushels an acre, but would have been 30 to 35 bushels had not storms damaged the crop according to UK County Agent Fred Brockman. Some of the wheat was sold locally to be sown for cover crops, and some will be stored at the support price of $2.34
a bushel. Brockman thinks more wheat will be grown in Estill county as a result of the experience of these two farmers.

Rainey Lovins has been carpentering on Fred McCusker new house during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spiceland will soon move into their new house, which is being erected on Paine Street, next to Porter Hutcheson's home.

Even Faster Long Distance

Direct dialing of Long Distance calls between cities speeds telephone service... and helps keep the cost low.
By this method, the Long Distance operator quickly punches a few buttons. Then, intricate and costly automatic equipment goes to work to put the call straight through to the telephone in the distant city, without going through another operator. It's fast!
"Punch-button" Long Distance and other new advances are part of our continuing job of bringing you more and better telephone service. It's a job that takes a financially healthy Telephone Company, with enough earnings to keep service good today—and growing tomorrow.

POPULATION KEEPS
LEAVING KENTUCKY
of 372,988 people left from 1940 to 1950, ac- cording to Dr. James S. Brown, sociologist at the University of Kentucky. This means the state lost as many people as there were in Louisville in 1930. Ex- pressed as a percentage of the 1940 population, this would be a loss of 13 percent during the decade.

Dr. Brown notes that Kentucky had 463,000 more births than deaths from 1940 to 1950. "If we could have held this natural increase," he said, "that is, if migration into the state had equalled migration from the state, the population in 1950 would have been 3,317,794, an increase of 489,099 or 16 percent. Instead, the actual population in 1950 was 2,844,806, an increase of only 95,061 or 3.3 percent."

TEST DEMONSTRATION FARMS BUILD LAND RESOURCES

Permanent Fixtures — on the Graves County Test Farm GOOD DAIRY COWS, A LARGE RESERVOIR and HILL LAND in PASTURE. HILL land has been transformed from gullies to pasture by leveling, liming fertilizing and seeding. Eventually the reservoir will be fenced and a not "muddy the water".

This report, written by Percy R. Luney, compares 25 Test Demonstration farms of Calloway, Graves and Marshall Counties with 25 farms outside the immediate influence of the Test Demonstration Program located outside of the Tennessee Valley, yet in the same climate and on the same type soil. This comparison reveals the fact that in 1936, which was before the cooperative agricultural program had assumed major importance in the Purchase Area, there was little difference between the productivity of the 25 out-of-the-valley farms and the 25 test-demonstration farms. But even at this early stage the influence of the U.K. Extension Service and TVA test-demonstration work may be noted in acreage limed and phosphated, and acreage terraced. Through TVA's provision of experimental fertilizers and the encouragement of erosion control practices, the 25 test-demonstration farms applied more than 7 times as much fertilizer and limed over 1 1/2 times as many acres as the 25 out-of-the-valley farms. The test-demonstration farms terraced 35 acres per farm while the out-of-the-valley farms failed to terrace any.

With reference to livestock carried per farm, there was little difference to be noted in 1936. However, with the passage of 12 years, the impact of the Test Demonstration Program again shows up. The productivity of the farms has been greatly increased. The Test Demonstration farms produced 4 1/4 per cent higher yield of corn, 52 per cent more hay per acre and had 373 per cent more pastured acreage which was limed and phosphated than the 25 out-of-the-valley farms. With the application of phosphate and lime to grass and pasture-land an established and expanding practice on the test-demonstration farms, the average number of productive animal units per farm was 36 per cent greater on their farms than on the out-of-the-valley farms, having made larger shifts of land from row to soil conserving crops. It was natural that they make a larger increase in grass consuming livestock.

Thus, the 25 test-demonstration farms, as a result of research on fertilization methods and forage crops at the University of Kentucky and elsewhere, coupled with the availability of experimental fertilizers through the cooperative program, led the way with new emphasis upon phosphate, pasture and livestock. The cooperation between the U.K. Extension Service, TVA and Test Demonstration farms served to speed up the distribution of new farming knowledge. Farmers cooperating in this program have demonstrated that grass in the form of meat and dairy products is more profitable than row crops on much of the land in many areas of these counties. The growing use of fertilizer in the area is indicative of the fact that the farmers have been given a liberal education in its use through the Test Demonstration program.

The present Test Demonstration Program, sponsored jointly by the U. K. College of Agriculture and Home Economics and TVA, includes 140 cooperating farm families in the seven "Valley" counties, namely Calloway, Graves, Livingston, Lyon, Marshall, McCracken and Trigg. Cooperation is completely voluntary and each family remains active in the program for a maximum period of five years. Each participating family develops a Land Use and Farm Home Improvement plan with the information and advice provided by the County Agent and special Extension Field Workers in the area.

Some Calloway farmers who were active leaders in the early stages of the Test Demonstration

Program, and who followed fertilization and land use practices as they learned them were:

Hoyt Craig, John Cunningham, B. W. Edmonds, H. P. Ezell, L. I. Grosan, Hugh Gingles, Rudy Hendon, E. L. Kuykendall, Lowell Palmer, J. P. Paschall, W. D. Perdue, Devos Reed, Charles Ross, O. V. Tidwell, Claude Tidwell, Johnnie Walker and the late Roy Graham.
